Celebrated Indian Doctor,

DR. SAUKABASIN,

Has availed himself of the medical knowledge of the tribes who composed the original inhabitants of this country, and having by upwards of twenty years experience earned a knowledge of the most perfect combination of the vegetable kingdom which are the growth and natural cure of the diseases of the climate offers his services in disorders He has in his possession a great number of certificates testifying to the wonderfully beneficial and often sudden effects of his medicines. From a very large number of certificates he selects the following Barwick, July 8 1846.

To whom may concern —This will certify that I had a severe attack of the Rheumatism in my hip. I tried all means to cure it but it grew worse and worse for the space of three months, when I applied to Dr JOSEPH SAUKABASIN one of the Penobscot tribe of Indians, who cured me entirely and in a very short time, and I have never been troubled with it since. And I feel it due to him to the community to recommend him as a safe and skillful physician BENJAMIN SNOW

This certify that I was afflicted for over thirty years with scrofula in my leg and I applied to four different physicians, and got no relief until I fell in with Dr SAUKABASIN and he gave me one bottle of medicine and cured me so that has troubled me none since, I healed perfectly sound My daughter Hannah was afflicted with a Cough and Spitting of Blood and by taking medicine was cured. SYLVANUS COOMBS. Gardiner August 15 1842.

HOLDEN Dec. 3 1852.

Dr Saukabasin—Dear Sir I feel it a duty to give my best thanks for curing my wife of a disease of long standing—a dropsical complaint—and I believe if it had been of your medicine she how would have been in the grave ANDREW L. PERKHAM.

Bangor November 1 1852.—I feel perfectly satisfied that Dr Saukabasin has cured my boy of a fever sore when doctors gave him up. NATHAN DYER.

Has located himself in Brewer above the Toll Bridge where he may be consulted by mail or otherwise and will be frequently in Bangor

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

WITH U. S. PATENT OFFICE,

WASHINGTON

No. 22 State Street, . . Boston.

IN 1840 the subscriber was appointed by the Commissioner of Patents, Agent of the U S Patent Office, in accordance with the 10th Sec of Act of 37

Having relinquished the Agency for the transmission of Models, and adopted a more expeditious mode of sending them to the Patent Office where by a Patent may be procured about six weeks earlier the continues to forward them free of expense—to prepare Caveats, Specifications Assignments, and all the necessary Papers and Drawings for Patents, and to render advice on legal and scientific matters respecting the same Patents secured in Europe and other countries

By application at this office, inventors are saved the time and expense of a journey to Washington and delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents They also have the advantage of verbally explaining their inventions, and of consulting in respect to them, matters of great importance in order to obtain correct specifications and claims The experience of sixteen year's practice, an extensive collection of rare works decisions &c. on mechanical subjects, the Patent Laws and patents of different countries, collected at much expense during the long time this office has been established, together with accounts here kept of inventions patented at Washington, enable the subscriber to afford to inventors desirous of procuring Patents, assistance and information which in other respects might be difficult of attainment

R H EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

WASHINGTON, JULY 21, 1849.—During the time I occupied the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H EDDY, Esq, of Boston, did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor for procuring Patents There were few of any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. Late Commissioner of Patents.

Earth's Beauties Fled

BY J HUGHAN.

I saw a rosy child at play
Just as the dying orb of day
Sunk in the far off western wave—
Whose angry surges brightly rolled Upon the shore that backward gave
A thousand gleams of green and gold

In artless pride he decked his hair
With many a bud and flow'ret fair,
And in his dark blue eye there shone
A something far too pure for earth,
A something which to look upon
Would tell you Heaven had given it birth

A lonely bird with crimson wings
And song which said a hundred things
Sang by his side, so much at rest
That he could draw his band along
The plumage of its painted breast,
And not disturb its melting song

And when the song had ceased the child
Looked sweetly in its face and smiled
Then took it from its perch above
And fondly kissed it over and over
With such a fond and gentle love
That I had never seen before

But as he held it to his heart
It slowly bowed its golden wings,
And closed its eyes so bright till then
And nestled closer to the boy
When only strove to wake again
Its only living joy

Like a harp harp whose cords are broken,
Just as its sweet st note is spoken
Is hushed the music which could steep
The soul in ecstacy of pain,
Till it would soar away and weep,
And weeping, sigh to weep again

With weeping eye he left the scene
That once to him so fair had been—
But took with him the lifeless bird
From it he strove, but could not part,
Thinking, perchance, the song he'd heard
Won'd once again to sing star

And now he takes from off his brow
The flowers, but all are withered now,
Withered and blighted that you might Seek vainly for some lingering trace—
That beauty, delicately bright,
Had left upon the ruined place

He laid them sadly side by side,
The beautiful and pure that died
Then strewed them over with grasses sear
And cypress intermixed with oak,
And call'd it beauty a lowly bier
O'er which his infant heart had broke

The morning sun, with radiant eye
Was glowing in the eastern sky,
When up from earth a spirit sprung
And glory to his wings were given
While angel choirs a welcome sung
And opened to it the gate of Heaven

Welcome from earth! we sing! we sing!
A song of triumph to God our King.
We called thee forth from the haunts of sin
Ere thou was touched by its deadly blight
Join our praises of love to Him—
Spirit admitted to realms of light

Cherub and seraph, unite your voice!
Heaven's bright armies to day rejoice!
A soul from earth we've ushered in;
No guilt sits heavy on his head
He brought from earth no thought or sin
To dim the glory round him shed

There's joy and song in the courts of Heaven,
When rest to a wandering soul is given
But far more joyous our harps resound,
And louder the praises to Allah given,
When a Spirit from earth in our band is found
Without a sin to be forgiven

Life in the Backwoods of Maine.

NUMBER TWO.

Preliminary operations of the Loggers—Description of a Large Gang

In the early part of October, 1840 I left myself to the Messrs S & Co, to go to the head waters of the Penobscot, for the purpose of getting out Pine logs Our party consisted of 50 men and 30 oxen About one half of the gang myself being one with the oxen, started on foot through the woods and after a journey of eight days we arrived at the place of our winter's operations, when we immediately commenced building camps for our oxen, and to house the sleds and ax yokes, cutting roads from the different clumps of trees to the landing places on the banks of the stream &c The remainder of the gang had started some what in advance of us from Oldtown, in boats, on the river, freighted with provisions for the men and grain for the oxen Our provisions consisted of flour, pork, molasses and rum—for in those days the present "Maine Law" was not dreamed of, and a gang of loggers without rum would have been a rare sight indeed At suitable distances on the river a barrel of flour one of pork, some molasses and rum were put in a dry place, covered with boards or otherwise protected from the weather, and left thus six or eight months, for the use of the drivers the following spring It has often been remarked that there appeared to be danger of such provisions being stolen or destroyed, but it is a well established fact among lumbermen, that every one respects their only sustenance while driving in the spring Even the Indians, who live on and own the islands in the Penobscot, and are constantly passing these unprotected stores in their hunting excursions thro the winter, will suffer with hunger ere they will disturb the logger's provisions This operation of transporting provisions for the men, and grain for the oxen, is no small job when we calculate the amount that 50 men will consume in six months, and the grain that thirty oxen will consume during the same time I shall be understood when I say that it took twenty-five men about two months to transport our stock of provisions to the "logging camp." From Oldtown, by the river, the distance was about 200 miles

In several places, on account of the falls and rapids, it was necessary to drag the boat ashore and haul them, with the provisions, by the aid of oxen, around the fall or rapid until they could be again launched in the still waters above. In many places the boats crossed lakes of fifteen and twenty miles in length But at last the whole party arrived at the scene of our winter's operations, and on the first fall of snow, was all ready for business. Our gang was divided into "choppers," (those who fell the trees,) "swampers," (those who clear the roads to the logs as they lay,) and teamsters, who take the logs, loaded by one sled on wide runners, called a "bob-sled," while the other end of the log rests on the ground, and haul them to the landing, or "skidding" place, on the banks of the stream, where they can be easily rolled in to the water on the breaking up of the ice in the spring

In many places on the shores of the lakes and rivers of north in Maine there are extensive meadows or intervals, on which a low good nature grass A gang of lumbermen had been up during the summer and cut and secured a good stock of hay for the different logging companies Our camps were built of logs and covered with bark There were three tiers of which there was one door for winter and a hole in the roof, also to serve as a chimney serve the double purpose of giving light by day and of giving egress to the smoke at all times If it was said in jest that the fire was allowed to burn low Our fire place was made by digging a hole about twenty inches deep and six feet in diameter in the ground in the center of the camp, and on our coming into this hole with stones our fire place was ready for a fire, we generally had as much wood on it at time as would serve the city for weeks At night after our suppers were cleared and perhaps, a few stories told each man would stretch himself in his bed of leaves, with his feet to the fire, and enjoy a sound sleep as on the softest down, in the most elegant house on Beacon street In one chanced to wake I was his duty to add a few logs to the fire Our food consisted mostly of salt pork and flour bread

As some of your lady readers may feel interested in our mode of cooking, I will describe it. Our pork was generally fried, our bread was made by mixing flour with water with the addition of a small piece of dough saved from the last baking and allowing it to stand for few hours before baking We took a large iron kettle with a cover put in the bread, then dug a hole deep enough in the fire to put the kettle in covered it with hot ashes and coals and in two hours we had bread that even a city baker might feel proud of On Sundays for a rarity we would add to our bread some of the flour saved from the pork and some molasses which to us hungry men seemed as luxurious as cream and confectionery to the city fed gents and ladies

Two Years in Maine

Going Home

Once a fortnight our city is crowded with most of the sturdy and industrious miners on their way home to the Atlantic States The red shirts and wool hats are to be seen in every street—all impatiently awaiting the departure of the steamer which is to carry them back to their homes and expectant families But a glance at a miner's countenance affords to tell how his hopes have been realized in this country and whether he has been well rewarded for his labor The one who has worked assiduously lived economically and been temperate and steady who has made good wages and carefully saved them with a view of buying a farm or engaging in a permanent business of some description reveals at once in his countenance the satisfaction he enjoys, and the bright prospect he has in the future If he is a young man some old neighbor's bright eyed daughter may have won his heart and the thought of returning and claiming her as his partner for life, cheers him in his labors and makes him the more anxious to live If he is a man of family the very thought of returning to a loving wife and children, with a well filled purse the fruits of honest industry,—is depicted in his countenance, and shows itself in his very action—How unfortunate it is that there are not greater number who could go back to their homes and gladden the hearts of their parents and families with a good account of their labors and adventures But of the thousands who arrive here, disease and dissipation have their victims and in no country on the earth do their ravages tell with so great effect as in this Many ardent and impulsive beings, who came here with high hopes and in expectation of realizing a competence for after years, have been stricken by disease, and rendered objects of charity or swallowed in the whirlpool of vice But there are many who have happily avoided the Scylla and Charybdis, and who every fortnight bring our cities preparatory to their departure for the Atlantic States—While many are so anxious to return, there is no small number who do so with unaffected sorrow and regret—San Francisco paper.

HON EDWARD P LITTLE This gentleman the member from the Old Norfolk District of Massachusetts in place of Hon Orin Fowler deceased has suddenly acquired a considerable celebrity from the fact of his being a Quaker and the first of that Society (I speak advisedly though we think incorrectly) who has ever had a seat in Congress A correspondent of the New York Tribune furnishes the following sketch of Mr Little, from which it will appear that a good naval officer was spoiled when Mr Little turned Quaker

The member elect from Marshfield, Mass to represent the Fifth Congressional District of that State in place of Hon Orin Fowler deceased, may properly be the subject of a passing notice

Edward P Little is the son of Commodore Little, of the United States Navy The Little cruised against the enemy in the war of the Revolution with success Intending to place his son in the navy, he carried him to sea in extreme youth so that the early associations of the boy were the roar of his father's cannon at sea

In the year 1800 Commodore Little was in the frigate Boston, engaged the French frigate Berceau, superior in weight and metal, and vastly superior in number of men After an engagement of more than two hours the Boston captured the Berceau and brought her and her crew safely into Boston harbor The subject of this sketch was on board the Boston where his employment was to carry cartridges to a twenty four pounder on the quarter deck of the frigate Although at this time but twelve years of age he was conspicuous during the whole engagement in which the ships were so near together that Commodore Little himself was struck and prostrated on the deck by a wad from a gun of the French ship

Chief Justice Shaw held a Court at Plymouth Mass, in May, 1846 when the second Jury came in having elected Edward P Little foreman At the dinner table the chief Justice announced that the first time he ever saw the foreman of the second jury was forty six years before, when the multitude assembled around the wharf in Boston, to see Commodore Little, in the frigate Boston, bring in the French ship of war Berceau as a prize, when he saw Edward P, a boy, in uniform, with a musket on each shoulder, in the discharge of his duty on top deck of the Boston. Edward P continued in the Navy, until about the time of the death of his father, the Commodore in 1800

Mr Little having cruised around the Mediterranean to watch the Barbarian fleets, and during the whole French war of 1798-1800, and having seen several vessels captured has probably experienced more of naval life, than any other Member of Congress, Commodore Stockton probably excepted Quaker though he is, he knows how to clear and bring a ship into action, he handles the broad-sword, pistol, boarding-pike, and how to use all the paraphernalia of naval warfare

Mr. Little now is and for forty years has Harmony of Religion and Science.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier.

Says a christian Philosopher in speaking of the grand harmony, between well established scientific truths and those of revelation. "Science has a foundation, and so has religion, let them unite their foundations, and their basis will be broader, and they will be two compartments of one great fabric reared to the glory of God. Let one be the outer court and the other the inner court. In the one, let all look and admire, and adore, and in the other let all who have faith kneel, and pray, and praise. Let the one be the sanctuary where human learning may present its richest incense as an offering to God, and the other the holiest of all, separated from it by a veil not rent in twain, and in which, on a blood-sprinkled mercy seat we may pour out the love of a reconciled heart, and hear the oracles of the living God."

Why should science and religion be discordant, since they have both emanated from the same great creative intelligence, the living God?

The great truths from which he designs us to draw lessons of wisdom are scattered over a vast field in the natural world. So are they in the Bible. But are their truth the less real since they do thus lie "without much apparent order?"

"Those of revelation lie before us just as the various facts which go to make a system of botany or astronomy. The Great Author of nature has not placed all flowers in a single situation, nor given them a scientific arrangement. Part bloom on the mountain, part in the valley, part shed their fragrance near the running streams, pour forth their sweetness in the desert air in the solitary waste where no man is, part climb in vines to giddy heights, and part are found in the bosom of the mighty ocean. He that forms a theory of botany must go at it therefore with hardy toil. He will find the materials, not the system made ready to his hands. Why should we not expect the counterpart of all this in religion?"

This we do indeed find when we turn to the Bible. We are willing to have the Bible tested by the most intense light of science. It has ever stood triumphant, it ever will. God has never made the truths of revelation to conflict with those of science.

True Philosophy, pure Science and Religion, under the full light of the present age are no longer discordant and jarring elements, but smiling Sisters reposing on the height of that great and magnificent temple, which is now rising into unity, and the increasing harmony of varying tints to win the gaze and console the sorrows of a long troubled and desolate world.

The State of Cordova had joined the insurgents, and Orizaba was hourly expected to do the same.

☞ The following are the remarks in the message of Gov. Clifford of Massachusetts, on the subject of the lands in Maine, owned by that Commonwealth.

At the last session of the Legislature, provision was made for the sale of the entire body of the Public Lands owned by the Commonwealth within the State of Maine. Under the authority vested in the Commissioners by the Resolves then passed upon this subject, a proposition from certain individuals for the purchase of all these lands was received, which was acceptable to the Commissioners. The contemplated sale, however, was not ratified by the Governor and Council, as was required by the Resolves, and the sale was not consummated.

I regard this result as fortunate, both for Massachusetts and Maine. For while I cannot doubt that it is clearly for the interest of this Commonwealth to dispose of this property, it is as obviously for the interest of Maine that she should become the owner of it. The possession of so large a territory within her jurisdiction by an individual or private company, through which a power might be concentrated and exercised over the lumbering business to the market, highly prejudicial to the government and to the people of that State could not but be regarded by both with serious concern.

While it cannot reasonably be expected that Massachusetts should receive a less price than the fair value of the property, or less than others are ready to pay for it, considerations arising out of our past relations to our sister State, and the obligations of good neighborhood subsisting between us, suggest to us the propriety of our giving to Maine an opportunity to purchase these lands at a fair price, and within a reasonable time, an opportunity which she has not yet enjoyed, as her Legislature has not been in session since the Commissioners were authorized to make the sale. If she declines to avail herself of this opportunity, I recommend that the lands be offered at public sale, in small parcels, for cash, or undoubted security. The security should in no case be a lien upon the land or timber, but independent of both. Returning such lien would render it necessary to keep up the machine and expense of our Land Agency, or the transfer of its duties to some other department, and thereby defeat one object which we should otherwise accomplish by a sale of these lands, that of dispensing with such an agency altogether.

The committee on Territories is said are progressing rapidly on the matter of the Pacific Telegraph Co. The propositions of Messrs. CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Jan 20.

IN THE SENATE.

The Chair laid before the Chamber the report of the Secretary of the Treasury. Referred and 10,000 copies ordered to be printed.

Also the report of the Light House Board.

Mr Seward presented the resolutions of the New York Legislature concerning the distribution of the public lands among the several States.

The Chair presented the report of the Commissioners of the Mexican Boundary Commission. Referred.

Mr Pearce presented a memorial from shipowners and others, setting forth the evils resulting from corporeal punishment in the commercial marine, and asking a substitute therefor.

The Pacific railroad bill was referred to a committee of five.

The House bill to suppress the circulation of small bills in the District of Columbia, was referred.

Mr Pearce urged the taking up of the bill providing for the payment of the Texas debt. Discussed and rejected.

The Pacific Railroad bill was taken up and debated.

Mr Chase of Ohio, modified his amendment and addressed the Senate in favor of the bill. The discussion was continued by Messrs. Smith and Bell, when the Senate went into executive session.

Mr Fitzpatrick, Senator from Alabama, appeared and was duly sworn, when the Senate adjourned.

IN THE HOUSE.

The New York Mint Bill was taken up and discussed, the question being on its passage.

The debate was continued at length, until the morning hour expired.

The report of the Secretary of the Treasury referred to the Committee of Ways and Means.

The Senate bill to prohibit executions in the District of Columbia, was taken up.

Mr Jones of Tennessee, moved to refer it to the Committee on the Judiciary, with instructions to abolish the death penalty—voted down.

The bill finally passed by a vote of 98 to 31.

A message was received from the President in answer to the resolution of the House, of the 25th December, requesting information relative to the capture and confiscation by the Spanish authorities, of the barque Georgiana, and brig Susan Loud. Ordered to be printed, and referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Mr Polk of Tennessee moved a reconsideration of the vote as to the printing, saying that owing to the relations existing between the two governments the document should not be made public until after examination by the Committee. A discussion ensued on this motion, pending which the House adjourned.

Extraordinary and Successful Surgery

On Thursday a tumor weighing twenty four pounds, was taken from the interior of the abdomen of a woman in this city, named Rafferty. She had suffered under it for some years. Immediately before the operation her person measured three feet and seven inches in circumference, in the same place she now measures seventeen inches. She has recovered from the immediate effects of the operation, and is doing well. The operation was performed by Dr Mc. Ruea of this city.—Mercury.

DREADFUL SHIPWRECK.—Eight Six Lives Lost.—The large English ship Successor, lying in Madras Roads, had on board 244 persons and a great number of horses, foundered at her anchors in sight of hundreds of people, on the 6th of Oct. last. The captain and officer had gone on shore leaving the ship in the care of the mate. A squall arose, the mate at the time being too drunk to take the measures necessary to save the ship she was totally lost, drowning eighty six men and all the horses. Safety lines were projected from shore by means of rockets, but the helplessness of the officer in charge rendered them of no avail.

POSTSCRIPT

Rail Roads---Last Card---Cutting throats with Feathers.

There is before the legislature a petition of John A. Poor and others, asking that any lands which may be appropriated to the State of Maine, by Congress, may be set aside for the North American and European Railway. Very well but there is also a request that the Charter of the N. A. and E. Railway may be amended and this amendment is for the road to commence at Waterville instead of Bangor, and if granted will do two very important, and for Bangor very disastrous things.

1st—It will give into the hands of the dear lovers of Bangor in Portland, Augusta and elsewhere, a parallel road between the Kennebec and the Penobscot rivers. Opening anew and with intense fierceness a war of the gauges.

2d—It will produce the above effect or it will yoke the Bangor and Waterville link of road with the whole length of the N. A. and E. Railway—making every subscriber to stock go for the whole length of the road which may not ever pay, and cannot for a long while, instead of confining his stock to the short link between the rivers which is sure to pay in a short time.

We have only time and space now to make this brief exposition of the case, and to arouse our people to the position in which they are placed, that they may make the necessary efforts to avert an act of legislation which will so seriously and disastrously affect their interest.

The last card of the over ardent friends of Bangor, living elsewhere, is now attempted to be played. A fair movement on the part of Bongoreans and those interested in the Bangor and Waterville road will avert the mischief and the wrong.

IT IS A FACT ESTABLISHED and well known that the Arabians attained a height in the knowledge of medicine which caused the whole world to wonder and admire. With them the science of chemistry had its birth and it is therefore, not at all strange that a people so eminently successful in the healing art, and so persevering and daring in character, should, by actual and minute experiment discover remedies far surpassing in efficacy all others for the cure of those diseases incident to them from their mode of life. The greater part of their time being spent in hazardous and bloody warfare with the different tribes they were subject to the most severe attack of rheumatism, paralysis, neuralgic pains and cramps, inflammatory diseases, as also the most horrid wounds, sprains, bruises, tumors, swellings, diseases of the joints, &c. &c. All these diseases they were so surprisingly efficient in curing, that the uninitiated looked with wonder, and attributed their skill to the powers of magic. H. G. FARRELL'S ARABIAN LINIMENT is a composition of balsams and oils from rare plants peculiar to this country, and was by the use of the articles composing this great remedy that not only their physicians but even the wild Arabs of the desert were enabled to perform such miraculous cures. The Arab steed is world renowned for his beautiful symmetry of form his unsurpassed speed and agility, and the incredible fatigue he is capable of enduring. Why not? Because from the time of his birth he is carefully watched, and upon the first appearance of disease the magic lotion is applied, and such things as confirmed spavin, pull-evil, fistula, ringbone, scratches, splavin, lameness, etc. etc., are unknown. The same results will follow in all cases where H. G. Farrell's Genuine Arabian Liniment is used in time. Therefore delay not in procuring a good supply of it, for every dollar spent in it will save you twenty, and a great deal of suffering, if not your life.

LOOK OUT FOR COUNTERFEITS

The public are cautioned against an other counterfeit, which has lately made its appearance, called W. B. Farrell's Arabian Liniment, the most dangerous of all the counterfeits, because his having the name of Farrell many will buy it in good faith, without the knowledge that a counterfeit exists, and they will perhaps only discover their error when the spurious mixture has wrought its evil effects.

The genuine article is manufactured only by H. G. Farrell sole inventor and proprietor, and wholesale druggists No. 17 Main Street, Peoria, Illinois, to whom all applications for Agencies must be addressed. Be sure you get it with the letters H. G. before Farrell's, thus—H. G. FARRELL'S—and his signature on the wrappers, all others are counterfeits.

Sold by INGRAHAM & FULLER, wholesale and retail Bangor. Also by R. F. Kimball, Oldtown. French & Hamilton, Dexter. Geo. Fletcher, Ellsworth. P. O. Flaherty, Houlton. And by regularly authorized agents throughout the United States.

☞ Price 25 and 50 cents, and $1 per bottle.

AGENTS WANTED in every town village and hamlet in the United States, in which one is not already established. Address H. G. Farrell as above, accompanied with good reference as to character, responsibility, &c.

Valuable Real Estate
FOR SALE.
I will sell the Tavern Stand known as the Kenduskeag House, a three story brick building besides basement, situate on the corner of Main and Water streets in this city, and also a new brick block of five stores adjoining on Main street with all the grounds belonging to both buildings. The first named is the last mentioned employed as a tavern now profitably occupied for the sale of liquors and groceries the other stores are kitchen furnished rooms for dwellings—the whole premises measuring on Main street about 84 feet by on Water street 107 feet. These buildings within the last year have been put in good repair, have granite fronts and a new brick has been laid in on 90 feet on Water street. This is believed to be the largest most valuable property now for sale in Bangor and offers a rare opportunity for investment or location. The rear ground is extend nearly on

The superiority of Dr Clay s system of practice over all and every other system in the treatment of diseases of the Lungs Liver Kidneys Spleen Nervous System, Dyspepsia Bronchitis Piles Dryspepsia Scrofula Spinal Diseases Diseases of the Skin Prolapsus Uteri Fluor Albus and all that formidable list of diversified suffering which comes under the general head of Female Weaknesses,
warrants him in soliciting for treatment cases that have been pronounced incurable by other physicians
Dr Clay s medicines are purely vegetable
He uses no mercury or other poisons in any case whatever as they injure the fine coats of the secreting membranes of the viscera and unfit them for fulfilling the functions necessary to keep up a just balance of action
The extensive acquaintance of Dr Clay with Anatomy Physiology, and Pathology, enables him to determine the nature extent and precise location of disease, describe the symptoms of the patient tell them how they have been how they are and how they will be with a facility that will inspire the most incredulous with confidence wonderful admiration
Consumption can be cured.
The consumptive reader is respectfully invited to call and hear Dr Clay s opinion respecting the curability of Pulmonary Consumption His method of treating the diseases of the Lungs is peculiar to himself and very singular to that adopted by The-

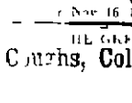
THE GREAT REMEDY FOR

Coughs, Colds and Consumption.



VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM is probably without a parallel in having during a period of more than Twenty-five years fully maintained the high reputation which it has acquired for CONSUMPTIVE COMPLAINTS and all DISEASES of the LUNGS, THROAT and CHEST. It has been used with probably greater success than any other article known, and Physicians who have the opportunity of witnessing its highly salutary effects in the most severe and very difficult cases, will affirm it is superior to any other preparation for these complaints with which they are acquainted. The Vegetable Medicine was a private recipe of a distinguished Physician in one of the neighboring States, and its preparation was by an individual to whom it gave the astonishing relief. It is composed of vegetables and must be prepared according to directions or it will not be perfectly successful.

Testimony from Messrs. Allen & Co. Hartman & Cincinnati—

Gentlemen—I have sold the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam in this city for the last three years, and it has been a very popular medicine. Of the quantity sold I can with truth say that I have never heard a complaint, but many have spoken of the great benefit they received from the use of it, and have purchased it for their friends. Many of the most wonderful cures have been made by this and other preparations used for similar complaints; we do not hesitate to say that it is the best article we have for the diseases for which it is recommended.

Respectfully &c

ALLEN & CO

Extract of a letter dated Sept 1852 Cincinnati Courier office—We believe that we have never recommended any medicine which has given such universal satisfaction as the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam in the family in which we have made use of it. We have never heard a complaint, but have seen many cases in which it has given relief, and we have no hesitation in recommending it to the public as the best preparation for Coughs and Colds.

Testimony from Philadelphia—I have sold the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam for myself and family for the last thirteen years, and can with confidence recommend it to the public as a safe and reliable remedy for all pulmonary complaints.

The first five years of my practice I have had the satisfaction to witness the beneficial effects of Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam in many cases of bronchitis, coughs, and other affections of the lungs. I can therefore with confidence recommend its use in all complaints of the chest as being equal if not superior to any other medicine within my knowledge.

DR. JOHNSON'S

AMERICAN ANODYNE LINIMENT.

For Internal and External Use.

THIS wonderful Medicine, notwithstanding it has never had the advantage of newspaper publicity, has yet acquired a higher and more extended popularity than any other similar compound in the world. It is entirely vegetable extract perfectly safe to be administered even to the most delicate child, and alike astonishing and satisfactory in its effects upon man or beast. Public attention is hereby invited to this valuable medicine, we simply ask a fair trial, and we promise you a radical cure of Coughs Colds Asthma Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Spitting of Blood, and all Lung Complaints, Chronic Diarrhea, and Dysentery in all of which cases it should be used internally. The effects of its external application in cases of Rheumatism, Spinal Diseases Sprains Chapped Hands Bruises Burns, and all description of Pains are magical. Persons troubled with Cramp in the Stomach Side or Bowels, are to have a speedy relief by a combined internal and external application of this Anodyne, cannot fail of certain and speedy cure. The proprietor cannot produce volumes of testimonials in his favor but prefers to let it carry its own recommendations as it has done for forty years past. We ask no man to use it after satisfactory trial. In its composition it unites several of the most penetrating and healing properties known to the materia medica—The inventor of this article was a physician and successful practice of medicine for more than twenty years.

This is to certify that having been troubled for many years with a distressing cough and bleeding at the lungs and receiving no benefit from medicine, in 1843 I was induced to try your Anodyne. Since the last stage of consumption I was so reduced that I was unable to walk or help myself. At that time your Liniment was providentially recommended to me, and by the use of three bottles I was entirely cured and have since been able to do my family work. I have also for the last twenty years been free from all attacks of bronchitis, and have found any complaint relief until I took your Liniment, since which I have had no return of this complaint. I can truly say I think your Anodyne Liniment was the means of saving my life. JOHN T ATKINS

Brewer, Sept 29, 1852.

Dr Johnson Dear Sir—In consequence of having a fever sore on my leg it became entirely stiff at the knee and it was decided by the first surgeons that my leg must be amputated—but fortunately a friend of yours had your Liniment and by using three bottles my leg was hardened and strengthened and for a number of years I have been able to use it about as well as the other. I could not myself indorsed to the use of your Liniment through the keeping of your prince for the use of my leg, and would say to all who may need help in this way, try it, and no doubt you will be cured

THE TRUE DIGESTIVE FLUID, OR GASTRIC FLUID.

Prepared from RENNET, or the fourth STOMACH OF THE OX after directions of BARON LIEBIG the great Physiological Chemist, by J S HOUGHTON, M D, Philadelphia Pa

DIGESTION. Such is the true meaning of word PEPSIN. It is the chief element, or Great Digesting Principle of the Gastric Juice—the solvent of the Food the Purifying Preserving, and Stimulating Agent of the Stomach and Intestines. It is extracted from the Digestive Stomach of the Ox thus forming a TRUE DIGESTIVE FLUID, precisely like the natural Gastric Juice in its Chemical powers and furnishing a complete and perfect substitute for it.

This is NATURE'S OWN REMEDY for an unhealthy Stomach. Not of more than one quart its curative powers. It contains no ALCOHOL BITTERS, ALKALIES or NAUSEOUS DRUGS. It is extremely agreeable to the taste and may be taken by the most feeble patients, who cannot retain water, thicker without acute distress. Beware of DRUGGED IMITATIONS. Pepsin is NOT A DRUG.

Half a teaspoonful of Pepsin infused in water, will digest nutritive Five Pounds of Roast Beef in about three hours, out of the Stomach.

SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE.

The Scientific Evidence upon which this remedy is based is the highest degree Chemical and Remarkable. DR. MORSE'S

INVIGORATING CORDIAL!

FOR GENERAL HEBILITY, IMPOTENCY, LOSS OF CONSTITUTION, NOCTURNAL EMISSIONS &c. This celebrated medicine which has attended with invariable success the treatment of Seminal Weakness, Physical Incapacity, and General Prostration, so many of the consequences of youthful indiscretion or premature decay, is now offered to the public as the most valuable preparation ever discovered. In fact most remedies for these various complaints usually advertised and offered, I have no hesitation in saying, are worse than useless, and have deservedly received the condemnation of the Medical Faculty. The WONDERFUL VEGETABLE PRODUCTION of which this medicine is composed has been tested in its virtues practically by the most eminent men of the faculty in London, Paris and the principal cities of Europe as well as by eminent Physicians in this country. It is the only infallible remedy for NERVOUS HEADACHE AND MINDAL COMPLAINTS, the mental physical sinking caught for and never to be cured. It is only agent that can administer to MIND DISEASES. It will remove all nervous affections, DEPRESSION OF SPIRITS, incapacity to study, sadness, loss of MEMORY, CONFUSION, nightmare, Self Distraction, fear of insanity &c. It will restore appetite, renew the health of those who have destroyed it by Sensual Excesses or evil practices. It has been said by some that these disorders are incurable, were incurable. This however is not the fact.

DR. MORSE'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL, and is constantly curing those complaints relieving the mental and bodily incapacity of the unfortunate sufferer, as the following testimony of the names received will conclusively show.

Dr Woodward of the Massachusetts Insane Hospital, writes of one of his patients being cured by using three of I. and says—I give the pleasure to inform you that some of my patients while in Boston procured some of your Cordial. It tells me that he has not had a single convulsion since he commenced taking it, which is before he had taken two or three weeks. When he applied to me says Dr W I thought it hardly possible for him ever to regain his full strength. I prescribed the usual medicines for him, cases in the hospital but they had no effect. In the meantime he purchased some of your Cordial which has effected a cure. I am sure no other medicine ever did. I shall ever recommend it whenever an opportunity occurs.

The nature of the disorders relieved by this Cordial are generally such as to leave the publication of certificates of cures out of the question and the proprietor cannot expect a host of the most convincing testimony to show that the good reputation it enjoys was not accidentally obtained, but is firmly based upon its intrinsic and imponderable virtues. In all directions are to be found the happy parents of healthy children, who would not have been so but for this extraordinary preparation. And it is equally potent for many diseases for which it is recommended.

PUBLIC JOURNALS

have not in a single instance this has been authenticated or given their sanction to any other preparation for the above complaints. It has in many violent and desperate cases effected a radical cure after patients had been abandoned and their condition pronounced to be beyond the reach of medical assistance. Hundreds have given testimonials of its efficacy, and many have been restored to health and happiness who had given up all hope of obtaining relief when it pleased Providence to bless your Cordial. I had no faith whatever of its beneficial use—but it has. I feel stronger have had no emissions since, although it is now a three weeks. I am satisfied the half a dozen bottles I took will cure me.

Another says—I had consulted several distinguished physicians, some said I could not be cured, others prescribed this thing and that, but I found no relief until I procured some of your Cordial. I must say it completely cured me.

Another says—I was surprised at the effect your Cordial. Why had I not heard of it before? It would have saved me so much expense, besides years of misery and bodily suffering.

CAUTION—Ask for Dr Morse's Cordial and take no other as there are worthless imitations which have gained extensive sale and popularity, have brought into the market. It will not hurt the most delicate female, but do good. Beware of all other Cordials, &c, and try only this.

Nervous Perspicacious of physical inability from causes above named, confidentially consult Dr Morse personally or by letter, (post paid) at his office 78 Hanover street, Boston. Then necessary advice and medicine for speedy remedy of such disability will be sent safely from observation to the writer's address.

Dr Morse is prepared to warrant a perfect cure in every case he undertakes to pay.

Prepared by Dr Morse M D, New York city.

It is put up in pint bottles, with the words Dr Morse's Invigorating Cordial blown on the glass. Price $3 per bottle, 2 bottles $5, 6 bottles $10, and $24 per dozen.
